Rain Relieves the Drought.

Copious showers which fell Tuesday night and Wednesday afforded great relief to the drought which has prevailed in this section for the past three or four weeks. From all accounts the rain was general all over Bourbon county and has caused rejoicing among the farmers, fruit growers and gardeners. The rain afforded an excellent season for the setting of tobacco, and farmers whose plant beds had produced plants of sufficient quality lost no time in getting down to the work of transplanting. In the North Middletown precinct several growers who had a few days ago taken a chance and set their tobacco were very fortunate in having a nice shower to refresh their plants. In most instances tobacco plants this season are very small, owing to the prolonged dry spell, but those who moistened their beds daily report the plants to be in excellent shape.

Negro Thief is at Last Caught.

Fisher Williams, a negro boy, aged about sixteen years, was arrested and landed in jail Wednesday by Patrolman Fred Link, on a charge of robbery. Williams has had more than a half dozen robberies traced to him since his arrest, and the fact that he is behind the bars is a great relief to those who have been annoyed by his petty depredations.

The last theft committed by the negro proved his undoing and gave the police the clue they have long been looking for. Last Saturday he entered the home of Henry Hibler on Lileston avenue, and Mrs. Hibler, hearing a noise went to the kitchen where she found the negro in the act of making off with a silver spoon and a bucket of lard. She halted the negro who begged piteously to be let go. Mrs. Hibler locked him in the kitchen and went to the telephone to call the police, but when she returned the negro had escaped by a rear window. However, she had forced him to tell his name, and Sunday a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Williams for several days eluded arrest but Patrolman Link obtained the information Wednesday that he was at the Bourbon College where his father is employed. The officer went to the college where the alleged thief was taken into custody.

The negro has harassed the residents in the vicinity of Higgins avenue for several weeks and is believed to be the one who after breaking into the store of L. Oberdorfer on Main street some time ago stole several knives. Williams used some very clever tactics and in more than one instance when he would go to a residence to commit his thefts and if detected always had in his possession a bucket, and would ask if milk could be purchased. At several places he is said to have returned and made off with chickens, eggs and articles of more value. His identity was not revealed until Mrs. Hibler forced him to divulge his name.
